Nerve crashes

Rap 1 (Genes)

My nerve crashes as I come near you with my passions you blink with long eye lashes wearing blue sashes singing Johnny cashes hit smashes my heart crashes as you turn to another mans camera flashes i picture his head as i bash it so i run to your direction i dash it from my throat i blurt out something undistinguished im no linguist but at this moment i wish i could sing this what my heart really felt in the sun all day i cant say but i know im making headway to your hearts entree as i sit alone and pray to be able to express myself like a protegee will you hear my confession will you even look in my direction will you vote for me at the election for im running a hole race for your affection
 as im rhyming over this Mendelssohn section i have a confession will you answer i do when the minister says do you take...
 and looks in your direction or will i see you walking from the alter me for the next 10 years asking where did i falter
 I guess its better to love and looses then never to love at all but with a little booze i can still have a myself a ball ok here goes i hope i don't fall will you be mine from this moment till were ashes
 I want to ask you but my nerve crashes

Rap 2 (Daves)

I revel in you, my exile through, my heart and soul and mind rendezvous, you captured the truth .
 I came incomplete, uneven you complement my being, enslaved once I am freer, In your love I am rising deeper.
 Lets embark our souls fly like a rain drop.
 Heaven born we rest on the earth till final dawn.
 Be my guide and forever by my side we ride through storms, droughts and good times.
 Take me now as I take you still, take your fill, sit by my windowsill.
 Take my heart in good will.
 Do you know how I feel, at your gaze how I reel, how I am head over heel this love is surreal.
 I speak but anxiety prohibits, where are all my convictions my passions my nerve crashes.
